Dear [REDACTED]

Receipt is acknowledged of your message requesting immediate recall of an individual mentioned in your August 9 letter. I have not received this letter to date, but will give it my immediate attention when I receive it.

From previous correspondence, I assume that the individual you referred to is [REDACTED]. The survey team for our new location should be leaving here in approximately thirty days. General Sibert plans to head this team. I cannot give you my definite reaction until receipt of your letter, but I believe that it will be advisable to retain this individual [REDACTED] if at all possible until General Sibert arrives, and let him handle the situation.

I repeat that I do not wish to give you a definite answer prior to the receipt of your letter, but feel that I should give you this much information now.

Sincerely,
